Chairman and manager walk out as club is given extra time to pay off its tax debt

By LOUISE SASSOON

THE future of Harlow Town Football Club was hanging in the balance this week following a series of high-profile resignations in protest at an 11th hour takeover.

Despite being given nine weeks breathing space to pay £42,000 owed to the tax man, the club lurched from one crisis to another as first the chairman and then the first team manager and his assistant quit.

Various volunteers and all but one of the board have also left, while 10 of the club's 16 players are said to be unsure if they will stay unless the future of the club becomes more secure.

The dramatic turn of events came on Tuesday after chief executive Jeff Bothwell signed the company over to his ex-wife Carol following protracted talks at an emergency meeting which failed to agree a restructuring plan to save the business from financial meltdown.

Mr Bothwell then resigned, along with director and chairman Simon Morgan and the rest of the board, leaving Mrs Bothwell as 100 per cent shareholder.

Manager Glen Alzapiedi, his assistant Matt Allen, club secretary Jim Aldridge, assistant secretary Fred Plume and press secretary Billy Shaw also left the club which, it has been claimed, could be as much as £280,000 in debt.

Yesterday (Wednesday), a High Court registrar deferred for 63 days a winding-up order on Seaside thrills (but without the sea!)

SHOPPERS found that life's a beach when the Harvey Centre brought the British seaside to Harlow this week

Visitors to the mall have been enjoying the traditional delights of a family day out at the coast – only without the long car journeys and sudden downpours.

Donkeys, sand, magic shows and a paddling area are among the attractions at the 'Time for the Beach' event which runs until Saturday. And while children were enjoying themselves, mum and dad could relax in a deckchair.

Centre manager Bryan Young said: "We all know how difficult it is to get away from it all sometimes.

"By installing a beach at the centre for a week we hope to give all local families a taste of the seaside and put a smile on their faces before they head off back to work!"

Businessman's threat to town centre scheme

By CHRIS MOSS
mosscc@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE feasibility of multi-million pound plans to regenerate Harlow town centre has been thrown into doubt after one of the town's biggest landowners told developers to "dream on".

Businessman Mo Ghadami, who owns a large share of the land and properties earmarked for demolition and redevelopment as part of the project, said he knew nothing of the proposals until they went on public display.

Of particular concern to the Iranian-born entrepreneur are plans to build a new theatre on the site of the former Odeon cinema in West Square, a building he has owned since 2005.

"When I saw the plans for the new theatre I was shocked and disappointed that the council had not even bothered to talk to me," Mr Ghadami told the Star this week. "It was like an invitation to a fight."

"It will be impossible for this planned redevelopment of the town centre to go ahead without the consent of myself and other stakeholders and it is irresponsible for the council to mislead the public by showing off these grand plans at this stage.

"I am like a sleeping lion and the council has dared to play with my tail."

An exhibition of the plans attracted 2,000 visitors when they went on display for four days earlier this month.

The proposed scheme would see the northern end of the town centre transformed into a bustling leisure and shopping quarter. A planning application is hoped to be submitted next year with the first phase being complete by 2013.

But Mr Ghadami, who has had a number of run-ins with the council in recent years including a High Court victory in 2005 where he had the council's decision to grant planning permission for the expansion of the Harvey Centre overturned, added: "I am not against redeveloping the town centre; it is something which I have been willing and able to do for years but could never get the backing of the council.

"All I can say is that these plans will not happen in my lifetime unless the council makes a public apology to the people of Harlow for misleading them and apologises to me for their flagrant disrespect."

A spokesman for the redevelopment team of Harlow Council, Stockland and Harlow Renaissance refused to comment specifically on Mr Ghadami's concerns but said it hoped to work closely with landowners to overcome any problems regarding the proposals.

the business to allow the outstanding tax bill to be settled.

Speaking immediately after the hearing, Mrs Boothwell said she remained confident she would be able to save the club with a number of cash-generating ideas including boot sales, opening up the Barrows Farm ground for breakfasts and selling shares.

She added that she was not surprised by the resignations and said: "It will not affect the running of the club. The staff that remain are positive."

But Mr Morgan said he feared for the future of HTFC and claimed various bills still needed to be paid.

"I don't want to see any harm done to the football club despite the differences I have with the people that have taken over, but I think they have no idea what they have taken on," he told the Star.

Tonight's friendly match against Histon has been cancelled and Saturday's fixture could also be called off.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell has again voiced his concern over the club's future and has arranged an urgent meeting, to be held tomorrow (Friday), to keep it going.

"That the situation has worsened is bad news but I have acted straight away to bring all parties together to keep the club afloat" he said.

"As soon as I heard about events at the board meeting I convened an urgent meeting for this Friday involving myself, Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson and Harlow Town FC. My absolute priority is to keep the football club open and for the club to continue running for the benefit of the town."

Politician's goal to teach teachers

GOOD SPORTS: Robert Halfon, right, with Langley Rangers director Gary O'Donnell who has given 55 football shirts to Mr Halfon to hand out to students in Rwanda (S)

HARLOW Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon is taking a short break from politics to teach English to teachers in a former African war zone.

On Thursday Mr Halfon landed in the Rwandan capital Kigali where he will be based for two weeks while he helps school teachers improve their language skills.

The trip follows on from one he made last year during which he taught English at a school in a different location.

"People ask me why I am going back to which the answer is simple. I just want to make a difference, albeit in a small way," he told the Star.

"Rwanda is a country in which one million people were murdered in 100 days in 1994 in what was a scientific and carefully planned genocide.

"At the time the world did nothing. Yet despite the tragedy, Rwanda is a place that learns from the past but does not live in the past. It is a country that has a great future, good government and is slowly building civil society with a strong economy."

He added: "This time I am going better prepared. I have done another teaching course over one long day to brush up my somewhat inadequate teaching skills. Last year I was terrified before I taught my first class and then found I loved it as I realised teaching was hard work but fulfilling and fun too."

During his trip Mr Halfon will be handing out Langley United football shirts and Harlow Council pens to his students.

He said: "Thanks to the kindness of Harlow Council chairman Edna Stevens I have loads of pens to hand out. These are items that will be treasured by the Rwandans.

"In addition, Gary O'Donnell, a director of Langley Rangers which is a club I am closely involved with having helped with some fundraising, has given me 55 football shirts.

"I can't wait to give these out and I know they will be a huge hit with the students, who, like us in England, are just crazy about all things to do with soccer and the beautiful game."

Scouts say thanks for £31k county donation

SCOUTS are celebrating after receiving £31,000 to pay for a new meeting room and other building work.

The cash was given to the Harlow Scouts Association by Essex County Council from its community initiatives fund.

As a way of showing the association's gratitude, chairwoman Ann Nutt presented local county councillor Lee Dangerfield with a plaque.

"This funding has helped us develop our facilities for young people enormously and better serve the local community," she said. "The plaque is in recognition of this."

Mr Dangerfield responded: "Essex County Council is proud to accept this honour."

Call for CCTV at crime-hit centre

THE lack of security measures at a council-run children's centre has been criticised after a string of thefts from staff and the parents of disabled youngsters.

Police are said to have been called to Sam's Place, in Foldcroft, on a number of occasions after cars have been broken into while parked at the centre.

The problem has become so widespread the council is being called on to install CCTV cameras in the grounds to deter thieves or catch them in the act.

Two of the latest victims are Dave and Sam Duff. Their car was broken into in the few minutes it was unattended while they took their son Mason, who suffers from cerebral palsy, into the centre.

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassooni@hertsexnews.co.uk

When they returned to the vehicle they found the back window had been smashed and Mrs Duff's handbag missing.

"We saw a young lad in a black hoody and jogging bottoms and white trainers talking on the phone and he watched as we got Mason's wheelchair out of the car, put him in it and go into the centre," said Mr Duff.

"We were only gone for a matter of about two minutes but we came back to find the back window had been put through and my wife's handbag stolen. We just couldn't believe it.

"The staff were really worried and concerned about us and said that it has happened to them in the past."

The bag contained £70 in cash, bank cards and personal diaries. None of the items have been recovered.

Mr Duff added: "There needs to be CCTV up there. The police said they had an idea who had done it and could go around to the house and give them a warning but without evidence they couldn't do anything else.

"With CCTV these people would be caught in the act and bang to rights."

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said the council had to prioritise where CCTV cameras were installed because of cost.

He said temporary security cameras had been used twice at Sam's Place but they had not recorded any incidents. As a result, the frequency of crimes was considered insufficient to warrant permanent installation.

Licence threat to festival in memory of stab victim

A PROPOSED three-day anti-knife crime fundraiser could be cut short after Harlow Council told the organisers the venue does not have the correct licence to hold a public event.

The Bands Against Knife Crime event was due to take place at The Link club in Parsloe Road between August 7 and 9, but licensing officers checking the plans pointed out the club would need a temporary licence for the first two days of the festival as it is a private members' venue.

Now the organising team behind the event, proceeds from which will go towards a memorial for Harlow teenager Tommy Jones who was stabbed to death outside an East London pub in 2006, have accused the council of being "obstructive and unreasonable."

Co-organiser Jade Smith told the Star: "All of us involved are extremely disappointed that local fundraisers are being subjected to strict scrutiny from the licensing team at Harlow Council.

"As the event founder and co-ordinator, I am profoundly disturbed that the local authorities see it necessary to intervene and ultimately cancel an event that is encouraging the whole town to be more aware of knife-crime issues."

A spokesman for Harlow Council said there was still time to submit an application for a temporary licence, the fee for which would be £21.

"Providing the Temporary Event Notification is made within the required timescale and there is no objection from the police, the concert can take place," he said. "It will, however, be subject to a limitation on numbers of 499."

"There are no licence conditions being imposed by Harlow Council that will prevent the concert from taking place providing it complies with the requirements of the Licensing Act."

● The festival will now take place on the Sunday only. Tickets cost £3 on the door.

Summertime activities are a hit with the kids

CHILDREN have been celebrating summer at two events in the town.

A sun-themed activity morning was held at the Gibberd Gallery on Saturday during which there was chance to make sun visors, sand pictures and pipe cleaner surfers.

A few days earlier Harlow Library hosted a Fun in the Sun session to promote the Quest Seekers reading challenge which encourages youngsters to read six books by the end of the summer break.

Children are rewarded with a sticker for each book read and those who complete the challenge will get a medal and a reading certificate when they return to school.

We owe a lot to MP's intervention

SIR, Some years ago one of my grandchildren who had learning problems was due to leave her local primary school, where she received extra tuition, and move on to a local comprehensive.

Essex County Council decided that she should attend a special school purely on cost grounds. The consensus was that this was not an environment where she would improve to her full potential.

The headmaster of Mark Hall wrote to the county council confirming that he would be pleased to have her if it would agree to supply the funding. The county council refused outright to agree and my son sought the help of Bill Rammell, who willingly took up the case with the county on his behalf.

After protracted negotiations, Mr Rammell was successful in getting the county council to agree and in her years at Mark Hall my grandchild improved out of all recognition, far more than we had ever dared to hope.

She then moved on to Harlow College and a mainstream course where she achieved two distinctions this year in her chosen subject. She is now a happy, well-adjusted young woman and this is due entirely to the efforts of Mr Rammell.

If Dennis Nadin (Letters, July 16) thinks that any advice centre could have achieved that then he is even sillier than I thought.

The constituents who have been helped by our MP are mainly non-political and not given to writing to papers. In contrast we have an organised and orchestrated bunch of Tory supporters who smell blood and are flooding our local papers with venom and bile in order to undermine his chances in the next election.

If any readers have benefitted from Mr Rammell's help, as my family have, they

Why are wheelie bins being forced on us?

SIR, I am bemused by Harlow Council's decision to force us all to have wheelie bins.

My neighbour and I share a swing bin liner which holds our waste for the week. Now we are to have four wheelie bins and caddies between us. Heaven knows where we are supposed to put them all. Other neighbours only fill a carrier bag a week while another family has an average of 14 black bags a week. All these households make wheelie bins futile.

And what is to happen to all the dustbins and recycling boxes that we already have? Landfill?

When I moved to Harlow in 1959 we were told we were not even allowed to have a small fence at the front as it would spoil the open plan look of the town. Dustbin cupboards were provided to make this possible. What would Sir Frederick Gibberd make of all these wheelie bins? I bet if Lady Pat were still alive she would be giving the council some stick!

I am on my own and have osteoporosis. I have been advised not to move anything heavy. Will my bin be moved for me? Also, I would like to know how this is going to be achieved. Will the dustmen have a list to check? That will increase the time it takes to get round.

I have been diligently saving everything with the recycling triangle on. Now I'm told I can't put any plastic, apart from bottles, in the recycling box. Tesco at Edinburgh Way supposedly deal with the rest but I wouldn't be able to get there as I don't drive. So much for encouraging us to recycle. I used to recycle tin foil but the bin at Old Harlow disappeared months ago and I can't find anywhere else to take it.

I wonder what other great ideas the council will come up with. They are determined to kill off the small shopping centres with new parking charges and now we are to be stuck with the white elephant wheelie bins that no-one wants. What next?

Julie White
Windmill Fields, Harlow

SIR, Local Liberal Democrat councillor Lorna Spenceley seems determined to promote the myth of reductions in the frequency of Harlow waste collections. As local county councillors, we take local concerns very seriously and wish to clarify the situation.

There are no plans to put a stop to weekly waste collections in Harlow. Food waste will still be collected from homes each week. Any suggestion otherwise is at best ill-informed and at worst political scaremongering. While we understand the nature of politics, it does frustrate us that concern may be caused unnecessarily.

The Conservatives at Essex County Council have worked extremely hard to develop a practical waste strategy and, earlier this year, they agreed to give Harlow Council £25,000 to help provide extra recycling containers and bins for on-street recycling schemes.

The Government is set to double the tax on landfill from £35 per ton to £70 per ton in 2010-11. In order to avoid this financial burden on council taxpayers, we must reduce the amount of waste we send to landfill. This strategy is designed to do just that.

Harlow's county councillors are keen to work with both Harlow Council and Essex County Council to ensure that waste is collected and disposed of in an environmentally friendly, cost efficient manner which the people of Harlow are happy with.

SIR, With all the current literature being handed out to us about the amount we do or do not recycle, my question is: Does our council recycle glass, plastic bottles and cardboard from its own sites?

Speaking as a Harlow resident I often see glass and plastic bottles by the dozen put in with the normal waste at our local theatre. This surely could be recycled but I am told it is too costly to recycle as it is classed as industrial waste.

If only our council recycled a lot of its own waste then I am sure we would creep up the national recycling league. Come on Harlow Council look at your own sites and start recycling.

No dignity in gutter politics

SIR, Having successfully highlighted the fact that Bill Rammell is running scared from a perfectly reasonable request from Robert Halfon to face the press and public to answer for his massive betrayal of trust over his expenses, John McCree then resorts to the politics of the gutter by asking if Robert Halfon would have behaved in the same way with his expense claims had he been Harlow's MP (Letters, July 16).

Leaving aside the fact that Mr Halfon soon will be Harlow's MP, I don't expect that he will give such a clumsy attempt to tar him with the same brush as Mr Rammell the dignity of a reply.

However perhaps I could turn the question round and ask Mr McCree if he can place his hand on his heart and say that if he was Harlow MP he would not have behaved as Mr Rammell did? After all, truth like charity should begin at home and our sitting MP still insists he did nothing wrong.

A simple yes or no to my question will be sufficient to judge your motives, Mr McCree.

Fine words but no action

SIR, I write with disgust at the recent mailshot delivered to Harlow residents from Bill Rammell in which he states: "Local residents cannot be subjected to harassment and anti-social behaviour."

On numerous occasions last year I contacted Mr Rammell's office with regard to such offences my family were being subjected to on a daily basis. It took over four weeks to even get an acknowledgement, despite making it clear how desperate our situation was.

What would appear to be a standard letter was eventually submitted to the relevant bodies dealing with the situation, but only after numerous phone calls chasing his office to do as they had promised. To this day I have never been contacted to ascertain the outcome.

A couple of years ago the Government launched the Respect Agenda. Could Mr Rammell please tell us whatever happened to it? Or is it now called Community Crime Fighters? Has anti-social behaviour increased or decreased under this government?

Had my local councillor not deal with my situation so effectively I have no doubt my family would still be in the same situation as our MP was uncaring and extremely ineffective.

You have a nicely worded mailshot, Mr Rammell, in which you praise yourself. But actions speak louder than words.

Cover over walkways

SIR, I would like to voice my concerns over the Town Centre North development and the open walkways. Everybody would get wet and cold when they walked through them.

Enclosing the walkways and putting a roof over the top would allow heat transfer into the ventilation system, saving 40 per cent of the heating in the whole complex.

With a roof over the walkways this would give an extra 20 per cent roof space for photoelectric and water-based heating systems which would make another 30 per cent savings on costs on heating and ventilation. This would be roughly 70 per cent of the heating costs being saved in the whole complex.

If the walkways were covered they would be a comfortable temperature and dry for 12 months of the year. This would allow the centre to use the walkways in the evenings for tables, chairs and entertainment and would give a Mediterranean culture. If car parking in the evening is free, more people would come and use the facilities.

Despair over baby boom

SIR, I read with disbelief that the PAH is looking to reach a target for the amount of babies being born this year ("Baby boom keeping maternity unit busy", July 9). In their words they are "well on target to go over the 3,800 mark".

It seems that most of the babies being born in Harlow are to kids. This is an enormous burden on the taxpayer to keep paying for kids to churn out baby after baby.

These kids have not even seen any life out of school as an adult yet, nor even learnt how to be an adult and care for a child. But as we are paying for their kids, do they worry? From what I see around the town with so many kids with kids, the answer is clearly no.

Why are the fathers not paying for these children? Why is society being forced to? If the mother does not know who the father is, then surely that should not be our problem.

I wonder what values the new born will learn and I despair for their future.

PCSOs doing a great job

SIR, The person who wrote criticising police community support officers (Letters, July 2) obviously has no idea of the role and powers of these people.

Having had the privilege of being out on patrol with these officers and witnessing the great job they do on behalf of the people of Harlow, it saddens me to read such criticism.

The role of any officer is difficult enough without misinformed members of the public making it even more difficult. If your correspondent took the time to speak to the officers instead of maligning them, I am sure their opinion of the job they do would dramatically change.

Give tent pair a decent home

SIR, I think it is disgraceful that Mr and Mrs Johnson have to live in a tent ("Yobs set fire to homeless couple's tent", July 16). Is that all the thanks Mr Johnson gets for being an ex-serviceman?

Come on, Harlow Council, show a bit of compassion and give them a decent place to live.

Not guilty: Wife cleared of trying to kill husband sobs at verdict

A MOTHER-of-three accused of trying to kill her disabled husband by suffocating him has been cleared of attempted murder.

Tracey Roffey (37) wept uncontrollably in the dock at Chelmsford Crown Court after a jury found her not guilty.

During the eight-day trial the court heard allegations she first tried to suffocate her husband Gary (47), who suffers from Motor Neurone Disease and is confined to a wheelchair, by putting a pillow over his face at their home in Sheldon Close, Church Langley.

Then, when this failed, she was said to have put a plastic carrier bag over his head.

But after considering the evidence for four hours the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Speaking as she walked free from court on Thursday, Mrs Roffey said: "I am glad it's all over. Now I want to go home to my children."

Her solicitor John McBlain added: "It's a very sad case, one of the saddest cases I've dealt with in 40 years. Nobody's a winner."

It had been alleged that on November 4 last year Mrs Roffey had taken the couple's two daughters to school and then returned to the house. While her husband was dozing in bed she placed a pillow over his head.

Mrs Roffey, who now lives in Loughton, had admitted putting a pillow over her husband's face but denied she intended to kill him.

She said he had twice called out and said he wanted to die. "I grabbed a pillow beside him and put it over his head," she told the court. "I had no time to think, I just flipped."

She said he had called her a bastard as the pillow was over his face. "I said 'stop it, please, stop it'. It took 20-30 seconds. I realised what I was doing and thought 'Oh my God'. I was ashamed."

It had been claimed that she and her husband, who was a City IT worker before being stuck down with the disease, had believed that if he died she would receive a £350,000 insurance pay-out.

However, during her evidence Mrs Roffey said she denied believing she would get the payout.

Warm welcome for 'Band of Brothers' on return to the UK

FOUR American war veterans touched down in High Wych during a visit to the UK.

The Second World War airmen were staying at the Manor of Groves Hotel while they took part in engagements including unveiling a commemorative display celebrating Stansted Airport's origins as a wartime airstrip.

They were members of Easy Company, made famous in the Tom Hanks and Stephen Spielberg mini series Band of Brothers, some of which was filmed at nearby North Weald.

One of the group, Don Malarkey, said: "Everyone has been really looking after us and I was surprised to see the following we have over here.

"Being in England brings back many memories, some of which are painful when I think of all those that did not make it through the war and some of which are wonderful which I will always treasure".

Nikki Orsini, of the Manor of Groves, said: "We have been honoured to have such heroic guests here. These were ordinary men asked to do extraordinary things.

"They may have been called Easy Company but their mission was never easy. I am delighted they chose the Manor of Groves as their base for this poignant trip back to England where in effect, the story began for them."

'It's such a cruel disease that ruins every part of your life'

GARY Roffey believed he would stay happily married for the rest of his life.

Even after contracting Motor Neurone Disease which has left him paralysed from the neck down, he though he and his wife Tracey would stay together.

Speaking outside court after she was acquitted of trying to suffocate him with a pillow and then a plastic bag, he talked of his heartbreak at the breakdown of their marriage and of the horror of discovering he had the disease.

He and Tracey first met in a nightclub 17 years ago when he was 30 and she was 19. They married two years later when Tracey was four months pregnant with the oldest of their three children.

They moved to Walthamstow where their second daughter was born and then to Harlow.

Gary, a field service engineer in IT, had just reached a major point in his career when he started to become ill around Christmas 2005. It began with him experiencing the initial symptom of leg cramps.

"I was getting leg cramps late at night," he said. "I would wake up screaming in pain; it was like a horse jumping on top of you."

He underwent extensive medical tests and by the following May he was diagnosed with MND. By then he was "a bit wobbly" when walking but before long he started to trip and fall over.

By then the family had left their first home in Harlow and were living in Thetford. They moved back to Harlow - to Sheldon Close, Church Langley - in 2007.

"When we were in Thetford we were fine," he said. "It all started going wrong when we came back to Harlow. In Thetford I was still walking about and doing stuff, going to restaurants. Living there was good."

Now the disease has progressed in just three and a half years to the point where he is only able to move his head and one thumb. He has gone from being an active man, with a brown belt in kick-boxing, to only being able to sit in a chair.

"I was walking upstairs two years ago. I worked six days and on Sundays I would wash the car and cut the grass. Now I am just sitting here. Eighty five per cent of people with MND die within three to five years.

"It's a cruel disease that ruins every part of your life. I have got through it so far but I get days now and again when I say I don't want to be ill any more but it's very rare I do get like that. If you are not positive like I am it must be hard for people who cannot deal with it.

"It's the way I cannot do anything and it affects every part of your life, from going to bed and going to the toilet to feeding yourself.

"What scares me the most is getting to the bit where I have to have oxygen all the time. If I could stay like I am for the next few years that's fine, but if I start talking like a robot and using an oxygen machine then I would rather not be here."

He has already booked a place at St Clare's Hospice in Hastingwood "for when I get to the end".

Since his wife was arrested in November last year, Gary has been looked after by a full-time carer - "she's like my hands, she even scratches my nose for me" - whose work is supported by six others who come in in pairs throughout the day.

The only thing he can do independently, apart from move his head, is manipulate a clicker with the thumb on his left hand. He uses it to operate the television and answer the telephone.

Quite apart from the court case and the ramifications from that, Gary is having to face what he and the family have to deal with now and what will happen to him in the future.

He admits that while he has told his three children about his condition he doesn't know what's going on in their heads.

He recounts a comment his son, who turns four this month, said to him a short while ago

He is starting to notice his father is not like other dads. "He doesn't know any different but he's started to say to me 'You cannot walk, can you?'"

Harlow's new waste collections

Your New Waste Collections

In September Harlow Council will begin its new waste and recycling collection system. The scheme should be rolled out to households by the end of 2009.

Under the new system most households will be given one wheeled bin for non recyclable items, one wheeled bin for recyclables and a kitchen caddy and container for food waste.

There are a number of reasons for introducing wheeled bins. These include:

- More capacity. The bins will allow people to collect more recyclables
- It will be harder for vermin to get to the refuse
- Less littering – refuse sacks can be ripped open
- Easy use. Most residents will find the bins easy to manoeuvre as they have wheels
- Less risk of injury to residents or refuse collectors from sharp objects in bags or from injuries caused by carrying overloaded refuse sacks

Recyclable and non recyclable items will be collected on separate weeks. On the week that your recyclables are collected, your non recyclables will not be collected. Food waste will always be collected weekly. There may be some exceptions due to Bank

Holidays but this will be no different to those that take place under the current scheme.

Most households will change over to the new scheme. Properties that have no space for wheeled bins will be provided with refuse sacks and continue with boxes for recycling. Recycling and refuse will be collected on separate weeks, however these properties will also be included in the new weekly food waste collection.

Flat blocks will continue with the current system.

Providing help with the bins

Most residents will find it easier to manage the bins than to carry heavy refuse sacks. Some people that have tried the bins for themselves have been surprised at how easy they are to handle.

However we realise that some people will find it difficult and we are offering an assisted collection scheme for those who have genuine difficulty. For more information about this call Contact Harlow on 01279 446655. You will need to complete an application form to be added to the assisted list. Your bin will then be collected from an agreed point such as outside your front door or by the side gate.

Anyone that is concerned is welcome to try the bins at the Council Offices or they will be available at roadshow events and Harlow Show (see panel).

Why is the collection system changing?

In the near future, councils will be hit with fines if they do not meet national recycling targets. It's likely that these charges will be passed on to council tax payers. Harlow residents currently recycle 25% of their household waste – the target is 40%, so we are currently falling far short. We know that many people are keen recyclers and want to recycle even more, but we also need to encourage those that don't currently recycle to take part.

Governments across the world are working to cope with the prospect of climate change which scientists now predict will have an impact on the lives of anyone born in this century.

More information

For more information about the assisted list and the new waste contract please call 01279 446655 or see www.harlow.gov.uk/wastecontract

Information will also be updated on our Facebook page www.facebook.com/harlowcouncil and Twitter (Harlow Council).

During the summer a series of roadshows will be held and nearer the time all households will receive detailed information about how the new scheme will work in their area.

Man accused of attempted murder after brutal attack

A MAN accused of repeatedly smashing another man's head against the ground has gone on trial for attempted murder.

Steven Smith (21), of Hatfield Heath, appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court yesterday (Wednesday) accused of trying to kill Ben Rees in Milwards, Harlow.

He denies attempted murder, wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm, causing grievous bodily harm and two counts of assault.

The court heard Mr Rees suffered a broken eye socket and nose in the alleged attack last November and spent three days in intensive care.

Richard Kelly, prosecuting, said Mr Rees was grabbed around the neck by Smith who placed in a headlock, causing him to choke.

Mr Kelly said Mr Rees was then forced down and had his face repeatedly smashed into the footpath, while Smith said: "I'm going to kill you. I want to know why you hit my mate." Mr Rees lost consciousness but Smith continued to punch him, it is alleged.

The court was told Smith was later alleged to have attacked another man in the same area and assaulted his girlfriend when she tried to intervene.

The hearing continues.

Nature reserve can fly the flag

A HARLOW beauty spot has been officially recognised as one of the finest open spaces in the country.

Parndon Wood Nature Reserve has been designated a Green Flag Award winner after judges said it displayed all the characteristics required of an excellent community facility.

It was one of 86 places in the UK this year to be awarded the prestigious accolade which is due to be presented to Harlow Council chiefs at a ceremony in Bournemouth today (Thursday).

College finances hit by funding shortfall

HARLOW College chiefs say they cannot rule out the possibility of redundancies as they work to plug an unforeseen funding deficit.

About £1.6m was withdrawn from the Velizy Avenue campus in April by the Learning and Skills Council.

Although some of the money was subsequently recouped, the college still has a £350,000 budget shortfall.

This week a college spokeswoman said it would seek to recover the money over the next few years and this would not result in job losses.

However, she warned public sector funding remained volatile and staff cuts could not be ruled out in the future.

"In this current academic year the college had a surplus of around £500,000," she said. "However, with the LSC running out of money, it withdrew around £1.6m in April. This is not confined to Harlow College; most colleges took a major funding hit in April.

"The new academic year starts in September and the LSC's settlement is around £650,000 more than last year but

sassooni@hertsessexnews.co.uk

there is still a £350,000 shortfall. This will be paid back over a number of years and if the recruitment figures keep going up along with the funding settlements then the college will be able to pay this off quicker."

She added the budget shortfall was equivalent to less than two per cent of the college's annual turnover and would not result in any cuts to the teaching budget or a freeze on recruitment.

But she said: "Currently the college does not anticipate having to make any redundancies and, if necessary, the college will try to redeploy staff where it can and only if it is appropriate to do so.

"However, public sector funding remains volatile and the college cannot guarantee that there will not be redundancies in the future."

Two years ago the college lost upwards of 79 lecturers after they were made redundant or left as part of the new Teaching and Learning Strategy introduced by principal Colin Hindmarch.

Rain fails to spoil fete fun

A STEEL band, majorettes and a dance troupe were among the attractions at a fete which raised almost £4,000 for St Clare Hospice on Sunday.

Crowds flocked to the UG Sports and Social Club in London Road, Old Harlow, for the event.

St Clare community fundraiser Vicky Parker said afterwards: "We are very grateful to the club for hosting the event and to the hundreds of local people who attended.

"Everyone had a great time despite the showers and through their generosity we have raised funds towards our important work."

Sale of store saves jobs at troubled carpet chain

STAFF at the Harlow branch of a national carpet chain have been told their jobs are safe after the company went into administration.

Workers at Allied Carpets, in East Park, will not be made redundant after it was announced the store was one of 51 of the chain's 217 across the UK to be sold.

It is hoped about 400 jobs across the country will be saved by the takeover agreed after administrators were called in on Friday.

One member of staff at the Harlow branch told the Star: "It is a relief. Business couldn't have been busier over the weekend."

Dermot Power, business restructuring manager for administrators BDO Stoy Hayward, said the firm had run into difficulties because of the slump in the housing market.

Worming firm to sponsor dog bins

HARLOW Council has struck a two-year sponsorship deal with dog worming firm Drontal in an attempt to get owners to clear up after their animals.

The company's logos will appear on 180 dog waste bins to raise awareness of the worms which lurk in pet faeces.

Joel Charles, vice chairman of the council's environment and community committee said:

"The council receives numerous complaints about dog mess, particularly during the summer months when people want to be outdoors enjoying our parks and open spaces.

"Drontal's valuable support will raise awareness of the importance of picking up after your pet and enable the council to replace old bins and install new ones where required."

Hospital hits Government targets for waiting times

WAITING times at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital are at their shortest for 40 years.

More than 90 per cent of patients have their tests, outpatient appointments, surgery and, when appropriate, an inpatient stay within 18 weeks of being referred from their doctor.

Improved patient flow through the hospital coupled with a reduction in the number of missed appointments has enabled the hospital to treat a total of 14,438 people within the four-month Government target since April.

Darren Leech, executive director for service delivery, said: "This is fantastic news for patients. We are really proud to have achieved this position and it is a credit to the dedication and commitment of staff at the trust."

"Ensuring that individuals are seen and treated within a timely manner means that we are well on our way to achieving our vision to be the best general hospital in the east of England."

Of the 2,497 people on PAH's waiting list early this month, only 61 admitted patients waited longer than 18 weeks for treatment, making the hospital one of the best performing in the region.

Diamond couple to celebrate big day with a quiet night in

A COUPLE who married in the same year clothes rationing officially ended in the UK celebrate their diamond anniversary today (Thursday). Donald (83) and Dorothy (79) Gibson, of Pennymead, Harlow, first met when Donald popped round Dorothy's house to see her brother's motorbike.

Love blossomed and they were married in 1949. Five years later they moved from Canning Town to Harlow.

They have three sons and five grandchildren. "We have little arguments but then you do when you have been together for 60 years," said Mrs Gibson.

"You have to give and take and don't always think of yourself. I am pleased we have made it this long."

Mr and Mrs Gibson plan to celebrate their anniversary by spending a quiet night in.

A HARLOW primary school has defended its decision to mix children from different year groups in the same class as it prepares to take on more than 30 extra pupils.

Abbotswold School, in Partridge Road, is facing an unprecedented demand for places and has informed parents it will have to create a mixed Year One/Foundation stage class to cope with the influx of new admissions.

But a number of parents have criticised the school for failing to consult with them on the proposals and are questioning the reasoning behind the move.

Some even fear their children's education could be compromised as a result of the decision.

"How can the school expect pupils to progress when they will be being taught two different curriculums in the same class?" said one, who asked to remain anonymous.

"We were told about this two weeks before the end of term. There was no consultation process and no warning. Now there's no time to appeal against the decision or for parents to find a different school for their kids to go to."

Headteacher Lesley Lynn told the Star the school had been forced into making the compromise when the number of new pupils became clear.

"Due to the number of appeals made by parents over school places and later registrations, we were only informed last week that we would be receiving more than 30 new pupils," she said.

"We have informed all parents and invited them to meet with us individually to discuss any concerns they have."

"We believe that this decision will make the transition between foundation stage and year one much smoother and less disruptive to the children."

"The school is committed to offering the best education for all of our pupils."

Dairy owner ran a kennels

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

YOU may remember the item we ran on this page recently in which correspondent Michael Caswell asked for readers' recollections of various places he knew as a child growing up in Harlow.

Barbara Noble has written in to say she remembers the proprietor of Mrs Wright's Dairy which was located near Harlow Common in the 1950s.

"Joyce Wright lived in a single storey house in Potter Street with the dairy as part of it," Mrs Noble writes.

"She just sold a few bits and pieces when I was in my early teens in the early 1960s. Her mother and father were still alive then and Joyce's mum served in the shop.

"Mr Wright used to do stunt Wild West riding and sometimes featured in the Harlow Carnival processions dressed as a cowboy on a big black and white horse.

"Mrs Wright also had a sister, who lived with them. They had dogs and horses but the horses were no longer kept at the Potter Street house but at the top end of Harlow Common at the junction of Mill Street, Commons Road and Foster Street in purpose-built stables.

"She did horse rides for small groups and also used to look after dogs when people were on holiday.

"When the M11 was built this property was demolished as it would have been right where the motorway is. Mrs Wright moved into a house further south along Mill Street where she continued the kennels business, but although she kept some of her horses there she stopped giving rides.

"The original house with the dairy in Potter Street was demolished and was replaced by a block of flats called Brenthall Towers."

Thank you for your memories Mrs Noble. If any readers have their own stories about the dairy or can help Mr Caswell with his request for information on the demolition of the Kings Head pub or Bailey's Yard in Red Lion Lane, let us know by writing to 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or emailing sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Painful memories of a trip to the seaside

THIS picture of staff at Harlow electronics firm Cossor on a work outing has stirred the memories of former employee Eileen Hawkins who writes to tell us she is in the photograph.

"The trip was to Southend or it may have been Margate," she writes, "but it was definitely in 1957.

"My name then was Eileen Woodward and I was courting a sailor in the Royal Navy who I later married.

"The trip I remember so well. A lot of us on the journey wanted to go to the loo and the coach stopped on the roadside for us.

"When we got back on the coach we found we had all stepped in stinging nettles which you can imagine was very, very uncomfortable for most of us!"

Market wall objection

A proposal to build a brick wall round the market square was the chief objection lodged by market traders to council officers at an informal meeting about the future of the area.

Council's £10m claim

Harlow Council will have to wait to see if it will be given back £10m from the Government which was spent to repair defective homes transferred to the authority from the former Harlow Development Corporation.

School meals up 2p

School meals will be going up by 2p from September. Essex County Council has said the rise is below the level of inflation.

Nightclub closes

Another Harlow disco has closed its doors as Benny's nightclub in The Stow is converted into a snooker hall. The nightclub is the third to close in the town, coming after Joseph's at Parndon Mill and the takeover of Tiffany's.

Cat that thinks it's a sports car!

MANY of you will recognise the cheetah as the fastest running animal in the world. But have you ever wondered why they are so quick?

It's a question that has puzzled wildlife experts for years and now a team of scientists has set out to try to find the answer by studying the big cats in detail as they sprint.

Using high-speed cameras and a special running track, they hope to find out exactly what makes these powerful animals – which can run faster than 60 miles per hour and accelerate as quickly as a sports car – such strong runners.

The tests, which are taking place at Whipsnade Zoo in Dunstable, will focus on North African cheetahs.

To encourage the animals run, the team are using chunks of tasty chicken attached to a piece of string pulled around the track by a motor.

Four cameras will film their every move while sensors on the track will measure how powerful their legs are.

The scientists will then compare the results with other fast animals like greyhounds.

The team also hopes to study cheetahs in the wild to look at how fast they can run and also try to measure a more accurate top speed.

Tributes to market's popular flower seller

A POPULAR and much-loved flower trader who was a regular at Harlow Market for more than 45 years has died at the age of 62.

Steve Webb, who ran Bernard Chapman's flower stall in Market Square, passed away at his home in Epping Green on Thursday following an illness.

He leaves a wife, Shirley, and daughters Donna and Michelle.

This week Mr Chapman paid tribute to the man he had employed since the age of 16.

"He was somebody who never missed a market day and was an extremely nice man who was loved by so many people. He will be deeply and sorely missed."

"He was one of those people that everybody liked which is why he was able to stand down there for so long."

Mr Webb's funeral will take place at Parndon Wood Crematorium on Wednesday at 12.30pm.

Bike buddies saddle up for charity event

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

PEDAL pals John Lellow and Jennifer Knight are hoping to raise hundreds of pounds for cancer research when they take part in a gruelling charity bike ride on Sunday.

The pair will join more than 3,000 other cyclists who will ride the 60 miles from London to Cambridge in aid of Break-through Breast Cancer.

They decided to take on the challenge because the cause is dear to Mr Lellow's heart.

"I have lost an aunt to breast cancer and at present my mother is battling cancer," said the 39-year-old. "It is my chance to give something back."

Mr Lellow, who works for Old Harlow estate agents Howick and Brooker, and Ms Knight (26), of Summers, Harlow, will set off on the ride at 7.30am, starting at Pickett's Lock in Edmonton and finishing at Midsummer's Common, Cambridge.

When they cross the finish line they will be treated to soothing music and a much-needed massage and refreshments before the top fundraising team is presented with a trophy and the best individual fundraisers receive awards.

In the 10 years it has been running, the bike ride has raised hundreds of thousands of pounds for the charity.

"I have been cycling around the town a couple of times over the past few weeks," said Mr Lellow. "I've stayed away from the gym though!"

He has so far raised £450 of his

CHAIN REACTION: Pedal pals John Lellow and Jennifer Knight (photo: HAR0578257)

£1,000 personal target, adding: "I am hoping that I will at least be able to complete the ride in a day, but it should only really take about four hours to do"

Ms Knight has also raised hundreds of pounds in sponsorship pledges and is equally confident she will cross the finish line.

To sponsor Mr Lellow, visit his website www.bmycharity.com/john-lellow.

County's new top cop

ESSEX Police has appointed a new chief constable.

Jim Barker-McCardle, who succeeds Roger Baker as the county's top cop, will take up his position as soon as possible.

"I am delighted and proud to have been appointed as chief constable for Essex Police," he said this week.

"I am very much looking forward to working with the police authority, officers, staff and, of course, the people of Essex to continue to make the county even safer."

Mr Barker-McCardle (48) joined Kent Police in 1981 and served the county in a number of uniform and detective roles before being appointed assistant chief constable in 1998.

Five years later he was promoted to deputy chief constable.

In November 2007 he transferred to the National Policing Improvement Agency as deputy chief constable and deputy chief executive.

Term ends on high note

PASSMORES: The sounds of musicals have been echoing around the school as students staged an end of term concert. A Night At The West End featured songs from productions including Hairspray and Les Miserables. A school spokeswoman said: "It was a show for everyone with upbeat rock 'n' roll songs from the 1950s and 1960s through to heart-wrenching ballads about lost love and lost friends."

Pupils' marathon success

ST LUKE'S: Pupils put their sporting credentials to the test when they celebrated National Sports Week.

They took part in two athletics competitions and a tennis festival before finishing with a 26-mile marathon relay event. Every child in the school was involved.

A school spokeswoman said: "They were sorted into eight teams of 26 children, each team named after a famous British Olympian, and each child completed a one-mile circuit.

"Sponsorship was raised by guessing the finishing time of the winning team and this will go to a charity which has yet to be decided."

She added: "It was a wonderful event, very exciting, and there were some outstanding individual performances.

"The fastest team completed the 26-mile challenge in two hours and 56 minutes, and all eight teams finished within three hours and 20 minutes.

"They all ran with fantastic effort and enthusiasm. They're certainly a fit bunch; perhaps there is a future Olympian among them!"

Family fun at summer fetes

SCHOOLS have been celebrating the arrival of summer by holding fetes.

Among those joining in the fun were children, staff and children at SUNFLOWER DAY NURSERY, in Broadley Road, while visitors attending HARLOW FIELDS, in Tendring Road, enjoyed an American themed event complete with gas-guzzling muscle cars. The event raised more than £1,200 which will be put towards buying a new minibus.

Over at HARLOWBURY, in Watlington Road, the attractions included a demonstration by local firefighters.

Free festival a celebration of musical youth

PLYING hordes of hormonal teenagers with brain-meltingly loud rock music and gallons of fizzy pop should spell trouble. But save for the odd playground scuffle and a few well-aimed flying kicks in the moshpit, Pearfest '09 was a triumphant example of how to bring a community together through music.

From the transfixed toddlers dreaming of one day brandishing a guitar of their own right through to the bemused but content perry enthusiasts who misread the posters, everyone cut loose and drank in the unique festival atmosphere as some talented young bands played their hearts out across three stages. Only being human, I couldn't be everywhere at once but in between trips to the ice cream van I caught some truly storming sets from some of Harlow's finest.

REVIEW

PEARFEST '09 Passmore School playing fields

One of the most impressive of these came from Southern fried rockers Anything In Mind, who stole the show on the second stage with some earthy, primal blues-rawk complemented by vocals so gravely it's like your driveway decided to beat your ears up.

Sticking with the second stage, swirling psychedelicists Penny Royal put in a typically elegant performance of lysergic loveliness.

Crossing to the main stage, Giants stirred up an impromptu teenage riot with a thunderous racket so fearsome even Lucifer himself would have cowered in the loos, while chirpy emo tykes They Sink Ships belted out some satisfyingly saccharine punk-pop.

Welsh indie-rockers People In Planes, meanwhile, may not have offered anything particularly innovative but it was hard to resist the swoonsome melodies and chiming choruses of their soaring, anthemic sound which led rather nicely into the schizophrenic yet oddly danceable stop-start jerk-punk of headliners This City, Brighton's cacophonous answer to At The Drive-In.

Free festivals of this calibre don't come around very often, so hats off to the incredibly generous folks at Friends of Rock School and Passmores for making it all possible. Their dedicated service to live music and community spirit brings a tear to the eye.

Panto producers start the search for Cinders

mossc@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE search is on to find a talented young actress to play the belle of the ball in this year's family pantomime at Harlow Playhouse.

Producers New World Productions are on the lookout for a female aged 16 or over who lives locally to play the title role in Cinderella, starring alongside celebrity cast members Sandra Dickinson, Ben Hanson and Rob McVeigh.

The first round of auditions takes place at The Playhouse on Saturday, with registration at 10am and the day finishing at 4pm. Those who make it through will be asked to return the following Saturday (August 1) for a second round of auditions.

The successful candidate will receive an Equity contract and will be unveiled to the public at the Harlow Town Show on Sunday, September 6.

Hopefuls will need to take their CV and a photograph. They will be asked to perform a short song of their own choosing and an extract from the panto script in front of a judging panel made up of the panto's creative team and Playhouse general manager Scott Ramsay.

The successful candidate must be available between November 30 and December 10 for rehearsals and then from December 11-January 10 for performances.

The role is also contracted, meaning the performer will be paid for their work on the show.

"Cinderella is probably the best pantomime part to play and we'll be looking for someone who can sing, dance and act to a very high standard," said director Guy Pascal.

"It's going to be a fantastic production and a real opportunity for a local girl to gain valuable professional experience and start them off on their own glittering career. As this is our first year at Harlow Playhouse we're really looking forward to bringing a wonderful show to the area."

David gets ready to rock

THE talented young protégé of a Harlow dance school will rock the West End when he takes to the stage in hit Queen musical We Will Rock You next month. Makin' Steps student David Rudin (22) battled his way through seven gruelling auditions watched by top choreographer and Strictly Come Dancing judge Arlene Phillips to secure his place as part of the dance ensemble and second understudy to lead character Britney.

He becomes the latest in a long line of students from the acclaimed Potter Street dance school to make the leap from the provincial stage to the glitz and glamour of Theatreland.

"I'm over the moon to have made it into this amazing show, it really is a dream come true!" he said this week "It was tough getting through the auditions but I owe so much to the training and support I've had from the brilliant team at Makin' Steps. I couldn't have made it through without them."

David now faces weeks of intense rehearsals before he makes his West End debut on September 14. He will then perform in an astonishing eight shows a week for a year.

David's former tutor, Scott Simpson, said: "All of us at Makin' Steps are very proud of David for making it into this truly amazing show. We feel that by being able to teach such a broad spectrum of performing arts styles we are able to give our students the best opportunities to further their careers, and David has shown how hard work and determination can really pay off."

what's on

ART: AN intriguing exhibition of paintings and carvings by artist Anthony Lyscia, whose stone carving Flowing River sits proudly at Harlow Mill Lock, continues at The Gallery at Parndon Mill until August 9. Admission is free.

MUSIC: A summer season of hot jazz at St John's Arts and Recreation Centre in Old Harlow draws to a close with a spectacular all-star stomping session on Thursday (July 30). Recalling the spirit of the New Orleans Mardi-Gras, the concert will feature Australian trombonist Max Collie, 'Gentleman' Jim McIntosh, Chez Chesterman, Brian White, Keith Donald and local legend John Petters. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10 on the door.

COMEDY: Efforts to save Old Harlow's Victoria Hall Theatre from closure continue next Thursday and Friday with comedy fundraiser The Random Word. Two nights of improvised comedy in the mould of classic TV show Who's Line Is It Anyway?, the shows will feature stalwarts of the Harlow arts scene as they take suggestions from the audience and try to turn them into laughs. Doors open at 7.30pm on both nights and tickets cost £7.50 from (07875) 893030 or (07870) 663480.

SANDRA Bullock returns to sparkling form in Anne Fletcher's screwball romantic comedy which proves that the path to true love can sometimes begin with some good old-fashioned blackmail.

With the triple whammy of Speed, While You Were Sleeping and A Time To Kill in the mid-1990s, Bullock was once the lady-in-waiting to Meg Ryan's crown as America's favourite girl next door.

However, a string of lacklustre releases in every conceivable genre brought her back down to Earth with a bump and only solid supporting roles in Paul Haggis's Oscar-winning Crash and the

Truman Capote biopic Infamous offered rare glimmers of a resurgence

In The Proposal Bullock plays New York book editor Margaret Tate, feared by one and all including her long-suffering assistant Andrew (Ryan Reynolds) who suffers her mental abuse hoping that one day she will publish his debut novel and he can pursue his dream of becoming a world-famous writer.

But in a shocking turn of events, Margaret is threatened with deportation to Canada when her visa expires and in order to stay in the country she forces Andrew to pose as her fiancé and walk her down the aisle on the understanding they can get divorced a few months later when she has her citizenship.

As part of the ruse, she accompanies him home to Sitka, Alaska, for a family get-together with his parents, grandmother and an old flame.

Seeing Andrew in his home surroundings, ice queen Margaret begins to thaw and the faux-mance kindles genuine attraction.

The Proposal is a treat that hits more than it misses despite some unnecessary comic interludes with Andrew's dotty grandma and unexotic dancer Ramone (Oscar Nunez).

Bullock plies her innate charm and impeccable comic timing to endear her character to us, even when she is engaged in shocking behaviour such as baiting a bird of prey with a helpless family pet.

She takes Peter Chiarelli's screenplay by the scruff and wrings every giggle out of it with her pratfalls but then finds some tears at the crucial moment.

Reynolds matches her every goof of the way, showing his sensitive side with an unconventional final declaration that plucks at the heartstrings.

the opening sequence in the Muggle world, where three Death Eaters cause the collapse of the Millennium Bridge in London. Younger viewers may need to hide behind their hands as Draco Malfoy stamps on Harry's head, Katie Bell comes under attack from a cursed necklace and Bellatrix Lestrange and her cronies launch a night-time attack on the Weasleys.

To counterbalance the darkness, screenwriter Steve Kloves focuses on the frequently comical growing pains of Harry (Daniel Radcliffe), Ron (Rupert Grint) and Hermione (Emma Watson) as they fall victim to raging teenage hormones. Meanwhile, Professor Severus Snape is announced as the school's new Defence Against The Dark Arts teacher to the delight of Slytherin House, Ron and Hermione continue with their studies and Harry spends time with headmaster Albus Dumbledore (Michael Gambon) and a Pensieve memory device which delves into evil Lord Voldemort's past.

And Harry's bitter rivalry with Malfoy comes to a head atop the Astronomy Tower, where one of the boy wizard's friends sacrifices himself for the greater good.

Harry Potter And The Half-Blood Prince condenses Rowling's hefty book into a mere 156 minutes which pass at a fair lick.

BRÜNO Sacha Baron Cohen's eagerly-awaited follow-up to the smash hit Borat follows a similar template to its predecessor, but whereas the fictitious Khazakstani reporter was a lovable innocent abroad, outrageously gay Austrian fashionista Bruno is a crass, insolent media whore.

ICE AGE: DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS (3D and 2D) Sid the sloth is taken to a dangerous subterranean kingdom after stealing dinosaur eggs and his loyal friends begin a rescue mission. The third instalment of the computer-animated Ice Age series is the weakest adventure so far, lacking inventive visuals or a clever screenplay to appeal simultaneously to adults and children.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

PRESS COMPLAINTS COMMISSION

PRESS COMPLAINTS COMMISSION - PUBLIC MEMBER

Applications are invited for a new public member of the PCC, the body that deals with complaints about the editorial content of UK newspapers and magazines and their websites (including audio-visual material). The appointment - which is made by an independent Appointments Commission - is for a term of three years.

Membership - which comes with remuneration of £11.25k per annum - involves nine board meetings in central London each year (usually on a Wednesday afternoon), and occasional ad hoc Committee work. In addition, Commission members are sent papers for consideration each week.

Applicants will need to demonstrate a record of achievement in their own walk of life, an interest in and appreciation of the dynamics of a free press and new media, an acceptance of the principles of self regulation, and an ability to analyse and digest a large amount of written material. Because of the importance of the Commission's independence, applicants should not have been employed in the newspaper and magazine publishing industry - at management or editorial level - for the last ten years.

A job description is available on the PCC's website - www.pcc.org.uk. Applications must be made by Tuesday September 1st 2009; interviews of a shortlist of candidates are expected to take place in early October. Full details of application procedure are contained in the job description. For those without access to the internet, a copy can be obtained from Kim Baxter, PCC, Halton House, 20/23 Holborn, London, EC1N 2JD.

Look forward to royal show from Queen

A CRACKING six-bend event is included in Harlow's 12-race card this Friday, where

ON THERIVER is strongly fancied to make all from a perfect trap one slot.

She will have to be on her toes at the start as she does not want the early-paced runners to get too far ahead, but if able to sit close to the pace, she should be too strong for her rivals from the 5th bend. LODE STAR rarely runs a bad race and looks booked for second.

VIPAR BLUE is yet to taste success at Harlow, but won't find better opportunities than in the first race at 7.30pm. He is the only contestant in the field that can show real early pace and should be too far ahead by halfway.

Elsewhere on the card, readers are advised to look out for PUFF DOGGY and TAIN LYNX, whom both have been given excellent chances by the grader.

Selections:
7.30 VIPAR BLUE
7.45 YOU LUDER
8.00 PUFF DOGGY
8.15 SOLDIERS TALE
8.30 MAYBE DAN
8.45 TAIN LYNX
9.00 RONNIES FLIER
9.15 WATERDELL DANDY
9.30 BALLYORAN TOM
9.45 NOBODY BETTER
10.00 ON THERIVER QUEEN
10.15 DAINTY BENNY

Tomas picks up the cup for Herts

TOMAS Stevens enjoyed a memorable ending to a county swimming gala at Thetford in Norfolk.

The 11-year-old from Harlow was the youngest member of the winning Hertfordshire team - and he collected the East Region Inter County trophy from Derek Milton, president of Hertfordshire ASA.

Tomas and his brother Chris (14) are both Hoddesdon Swimming Club members and were competing in a five-county gala.

Other counties competing were Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire, Essex, Norfolk and Suffolk.

Chris and brother Tomas swam in the freestyle and medley relays. Chris swam 50m freestyle in both his races, achieving personal bests (PBs) of 26.78s and 26.80s.

The team finished fifth in the medley relay and fourth in the freestyle relay.

Tomas, who will shortly be competing in the national swimming championships in Sheffield, swam 50m backstroke in the medley relay, gaining a PB of 32.16s in the winning team. An excellent time of 30.46s was also achieved in the 4x50m freestyle relay, where the team finished fourth.

Lucky 13 for top all-rounder Glen

GLEN Paxman stepped up to the plate as he helped Harlow Athletic Club come second in their Southern Men's League division three north match at Luton.

With several key athletes, including twin brother Carl Paxman missing, Glen completed in an incredible 13 events and still managed to shatter two personal bests (PBs).

A first PB came in the pole vault, where Glen cleared 2.40m to come 2nd in the A string. His second win came in the shot putt, where he followed a 9.41m PB with a further PB of 9.48m, securing a B-string win.

Further wins for him came in the 400m A (51.1s) and in the 800m B (2 mins 21.1s).

Second places for Glen came in the 100m A (11.5s), 110m hurdles A (21.1s), 200m A (23.5s), long jump A (5.78m), high jump A (1.55m), triple jump A (11.69m) and javelin A (30.73m).

"I knew that this match was going to be challenging and I put in a lot of work in its lead-up," said Glen.

Restricted by an age limitation to the number of events, team members Liam Misty and Dave Marriott tried their hand at multi-eventing.

Dave was 3rd in 100m B (12.5s), 2nd in the long jump B (5.31m), 4th in the high jump B (1.10m) and 2nd in the javelin B (15.47m) and part of the 4x100m relay (54.3s, 4th).

Liam competed in the 1500m (4:37.3, 3rd A), 200m (29s 4th B) and cleared the minimum Pole Vault height (2nd B). He was part of the 4x400m relay team (4:00.1, 2nd).

Steve Down secured wins in the 400m B (56.0s) and 110m hurdles B (21.7s) and was second in the 400m Hurdles B (62.6s).

Dave Bauer and Chris Clark cleaned up in the hammer and discus, with Dave setting a season's best of 34.06m in the hammer.

Andy Levett (18:29.4, 3rd A) and Ciaran McGrath (24:24.7 - 4th B) competed in the 5,000m with Andy also tackling the 1500m (5:16.3 - 3rd B).

Paul Avontuur was third in the shot A (9.63m).

Harlow remain fifth in their league.

ROY Steven led the way home as he was the first Harlow Running Club member to complete the midweek Trent Park Mob Match course.

He completed the 9k run through the park in north London in a time of 35 mins 31 secs.

He was closely followed home by Rick Ricketts (35:38) and Jamie Jephcott (36:19).

The first Harlow lady finisher was Katie Herrington (42:40) followed by Clare Williams (47:28) and Linda Selby (49:05).

Other Harlow RC results: John Tennant (36:42); Adrian Fell (38:34); David Ayling (39:04); John Bull (39:23); Sean Flynn (42:35); Matt Jones (46:46); Karen Moir (51:49); Alison Bull (51:52); Wendy Spring (51:54).

John Tennant completed the hilly Brentwood 10k in 41:06 in extremely windy conditions.

HARLOW AC's Andrew Osagie missed out on qualifying for the 800m final by just four-hundredths of a second at the European U23 championships at Kaunas in Lithuania.

The 21-year-old was competing in his first major international championships and was third in the 800m heat in 1:49.47 last Thursday.

While in Northern Ireland, 16-year-old

Billy Falconer competed for England in a home countries international and leapt 1.91m, losing out to UK No1 Kyle Hendersen, who cleared 1.94m.

THERE were some excellent performances which came from Harlow-based athletes at a Southern Premier League meeting at Ashton.

They were all representing Woodford Green AC and Tom Richards (16) did not let the gusting winds stop him from producing a personal best (PB) of 51.60m to win the U17 men's javelin, ranking him third in the East Region.

Brian Kinuthia (12) came first in the U-13 boys high jump and ran brilliantly in a winning 4x100m relay winning team.

Debutant Ebony Clark (15) ran 28.2s in the U17 200m B string (2nd) and another Woodford debutant Tyler Bown (14) was 2nd in the discus B (24.88m), 4th in the shot (9.77m) and 2nd in the javelin B (22.64m).

Sophie Fuhr (15), from North Weald, produced 2 PBs - in the 300m hurdles (48.3s - 2nd B string) and 43.4s in the 400m A (3rd), while also being in the 4x300m winning relay team.

Town show no mercy as they head for title

NO mercy was shown by unbeaten league Harlow Town as they hammered a poor Ashdon side at home on Saturday.

The visitors batted first and were bowled out for just 61, with the spin bowling of Ramaya Upadhyay causing the most damage.

He took four wickets, while Ashley Alderson and Shane Hooper also chipped in with two wickets each through accurate seam and swing bowling. Ashdon were in trouble the moment they lost the toss and were asked to bat on a damp wicket offering help to the bowlers.

With Town also claiming two wickets via run outs, it completed a fine all-round performance.

Town completed the run chase inside 10 overs, opener Shiraz Ali top-scoring with 37. Ali was dismissed by Phillip Salt (2-21), whose wickets handed Ashdon their only bonus point from the game.

With Town's nearest rivals losing over the weekend, they are 81 points clear at the top of division two with six games remaining and on the verge of clinching promotion.

● Harlow Town seconds (127-5) kept their place at the top of division four after beating Essendon (126) by 5 wickets at home.

Jack Elston (46 not out) and Ron Yates (29) helped Town towards another 26 points and will be in good heart for their top-of-the-table clash at Stansted this Saturday.

● Harlow Town thirds lost their unbeaten record on Saturday in division seven, when they went down by five wickets at Dunmow thirds. Town were inserted into bat and scored only 157 in bowler-friendly conditions, Ben Tyne (27) and Dave Bailey (26) top scoring for Town.

Harrington top scored with 40, as the hosts ended Harlow's unbeaten run.

● In division three, Potter Street (132-2) beat South Loughton II (131) at home by eight wickets.

Sorry display at seaside

Old Southendians and Southchurch 130, Harlow 87
Harlow lost by 43 runs
(Shepherd Neame Essex Cricket League, division two)

STRONG character must be shown by Harlow as they bid to get their promotion campaign back on track when they host Walthamstow on Saturday.

James Butler's side go into the match knowing their batsmen must perform after their sorry display in the defeat at basement side Old Southendians and Southchurch. Harlow are third.

Harlow's overseas player Abhishek Jhunjhunwala is highly unlikely to be available.

Southendians batted first and Harlow made an early breakthrough was made with Jason McNally getting danger man Chris Bunce caught by Nick Butler for 5.

McNally and Heskett picked up two more wickets but the hosts struggled against the spin of Jhunjhunwala (4-24) and Nick Butler (1-24) on a deteriorating turning pitch.

Only the home side's captain, Rob Johnston, provided resistance scoring an excellent 69 as the hosts finished on 130 all out.

In reply, Harlow imploded. First Rehman Ahmed (0) and then Jhunjhunwala (4) fell in the first two overs.

Resistance came from Nick Butler (12), Jason McNally (18) and Darren Green (21) but Harlow slid to 90 all out.

Hawks boss quits club

GLEN Alzapiedi has quit as Harlow Town Football Club's manager following the resignation of chairman Simon Morgan.

It brings to an end a turbulent seven-month period for Alzapiedi, who joined the club as first team manager on December 22, after player-boss Ryan Kirby was sacked.

The club was struggling on the field when Alzapiedi joined and he was unable to prevent the club being relegated from the Ryman League premier division.

Alzapiedi had been reorganising his squad during the close season, but decided to leave following a meeting with the club's new chief executive, Carol Bothwell, on Tuesday evening.

She was appointed to her new position following a board meeting which saw Morgan quit the Barrow Farm club.

Morgan had appointed Alzapiedi, who had steered Ware into the first round proper of the FA Cup during the 2007/08 season.

Alzapiedi, whose assistant Matt Allen has also gone, said: "Me and Matt (Allen) had a meeting with Carol (Bothwell) and she did not fill me with confidence that the club had a future.

"When Simon resigned, it was going to be difficult for me to carry on at the club. Simon was the financial backer and the person that ran it."

Backroom staff, including secretary Jim Aldridge and press officer Billy Shaw, are among others who have quit the Hawks.

"As there was no support staff, there was no structure and I cannot carry on," said Alzapiedi, who was charge of the Harlow team for Tuesday night's friendly, which saw Harlow beat St Albans City 4-2.

He told the Star: "I feel sorry for the players and am particularly disappointed for the fans. I have no regrets with the club, but I have learned that if I take over, I must get in my own people (players) as quickly as possible."

Alzapiedi's squad included at least nine players with whom he had worked at Ware and it would be surprising if there were not a few departures from Barrow Farm.

Tonight's scheduled game against Blue Square Premier side Histon has been cancelled.

DEPARTED: Former Harlow Town boss Glen Alzapiedi

Hawks sink Saints in friendly

THE off-the-pitch machinations rendered Tuesday's game at Barrows Farm academic, but departing Hawks boss Glen Alzapiedi could hold his head high.

His Harlow Town team notched a convincing win over Blue Square South club, St Albans.

Harlow went ahead in the second minute through a Ricci

Crace strike and doubled their advantage on 50 minutes, when a neat three-man move was finished by Joe Stevens.

Clark Akers converted a 56th-minute penalty, awarded after he had been fouled in the box by visitors' keeper Paul Bastock and John Frendo put Harlow 4-0 up with a 67th minute shot.

St Albans replied with two goals on 74 and 90 minutes, with one of them coming from Solomon Shields.

HARLOW TOWN: Anstead, Clemo, Bardle, Blower, Walton, Wheeler, Ramshaw, Akers, Frendo, Crace, Stevens. Subs used: Stevenson, Bruno, Osei, Dodd, Beckles, Querry, Weaver, Doolan.
